DESERTED SON GETS HIS FATHER'S WEALTH

James Morrow, Missing for Twenty-

Five Years, Declared Legally

Dead-Heir to Rich Estate. REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, July 2-James Morrow has been adjudged by Judge Gildersleeve of the Supreme Court to be legally dead, nothing having been heard from him by his relatives or friends in twenty-five years. His son, Samuel H. Merrow, is held to be enittled to his share in the estate of William McMahon, a granduncle, who died in October, 1898, leaving property estimated to be worth $500,000, and Judge Gildersleeve has directed an accounting in his behalf, The evidence heard by Justice Gilder sleeve showed that James Morrow was orn about the year 1850, married the plaintiff's mother February 2, 1872, and that on November 12, 1872, nine months after the November 12, 1872, nine months after the marriage, he went to lilinois with the avowed purpose of seeking employment and making a home for his wife. On May 28, 1873, Mrs. James Morrow gave birth to a son—the plaintiff in the present suit. After reviewing these facts the Justice remarked:

"In 1878 Morrow wrote to his wife, stating that he was then in a hospital in Texas; had been there six months; never expected to leave it, and asked for foregiveness for past wrongs. This argues a condition of mind and heart which, happily, is found only in natures from which the highest instincts of our humanity have been obliterated. The law presumes better things of men, and the plaintiff is entitled to whatever benefit the humane presumptions of law in favor of the existence of goodness rather than evil in men affords him."

SHIRT WAISTS GAINING GROUND Permitted in a New Jersey Court for the First Time. for the First Time.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Paterson, N. J., July 2.—For the first time in the history of the State snirt waists were allowed in the Court of Chancery today. Vice Chancellor Pitney made the innovation. He came here to try the twenty-five Frank & Dugan strikers for contempt.

The strikers and their friends did not seem to mind the heat and crowded the courtroom. It was as hot as an oven The Vice Chancellor had a fan and piled it vigorously. He said:

"Any man who wishes to go without him coat is at liberty to do so and has my sanction." in about half an hour shirt waists were seen in every corner of the courtroom. The hearing will be resumed to-morrow.

taking 159 ballots, the result remained the same.

It is generally believed that the ten who stood for acquittal based their finding upon the broad unwritten law which stands for the sanctity of domestic relationship, while the two who held out for conviction followed closely the rigid letter of the law.

The defendants were admitted to half in the sum of 314,000 each, which was promptly given by friends.
